Why Hospitals Use a Liquid Laxative

Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. And the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. Do you know the reasons?

The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can be controlled. It forms no habit. You need not take a "double dose" in case of constipation. Liquids do not contain undigested bulk. They do not irritate the kidneys.

The right liquid laxative is a perfect movement, and there is no discomfort at the time, or after.

The wrong laxative may be one you constipated at first as you keep increasing it! And the habitual use of irritating salts, or of powerful drugs in the highly concentrated form of pills and tablets may prove injurious.

A week with a properly prepared liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will tell you a lot. A few weeks' time, and your bowels can be "as regular as clockwork." Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative which all druggists keep ready for use. It makes an ideal family laxative, effective for all ages, and may be started by the youngest child. "You can't fool a Tobacco Plant
—that's why I use Royster Field Tested Fertilizer"

IF you want good quality leaf, with proper texture and weight, you've got to give your tobacco the kind of plant foods that ripen it, ripen it evenly, and hold it on the hill. Royster's Tobacco Fertilizer does these things. Our field-tests prove it to us. Your profits will prove it to you.

Don't take any chance when you buy your fertilizer. Remember this: Royster's is made in one quality only—the best. You can pay more or you can pay less, but you cannot buy better fertilizer for growing tobacco.

Royster experts are continually studying tobacco, learning all there is to know about fertilizing it. They never stop experimenting and improving. They test every fertilizer in the laboratory, then field-test it in the tobacco field. Only refined materials are used to make sure that the purest obtainable go into Royster sacks. As a result, we know that Royster Tobacco Fertilizer will give you the results you want.

See your Royster agent today and let him know how many tons you need.

Cause for Confidence

"We may reasonably expect that the recent action of the government in stabilizing the dollar will have a marked tendency to encourage industrial and other business commitments. Industry man need not be so excessively engaged in taking counsel of their fears now that the country does not haunt them. "Much has been said about the looting of credit by banks. During the long period of the depression banks for the most part have not been lending normally, nor should they be blamed. With public confidence shattered the banker was properly concerned in liquidating in mind his primary obligation to pay off deposits. The situation has improved to the point where superliquidity no longer seems necessary. Conditions have materially changed. Bank will desire, for every reason, to return to a more normal lending policy. This creates a sympathetic attitude and a recognition of responsibility for his proper part in the progress to be made by the banker as he passes upon and meets sound credit requirements of business as it swings into and continues on the upward turn."

Public Confidence Returns

Direct information indicates conclusively that the banking situation is showing definite and steady improvement, J. F. T. O'Connor, Comptroller of the Currency of the United States, said in a recent address. He pointed out that the decided drop which has occurred in money in circulation shows the public has largely ceased hoarding.

On March 1, 1934, the Federal Reserve board reported that the volume of money in circulation amounted to $4,325,000,000, which was a decline of $1,977,000,000 since March 1, 1933. It was a drop of $2,216,000,000, or over 33 per cent from the all-time peak of $7,541,000,000 reached on March 15, 1933. About one-half the decrease, it was pointed out, reflected the return of currency from the public.

Money in circulation declined rapidly after the reopening of the banks in March, 1933, and has continued since to decline from week to week. "notwithstanding the increase in the demand for currency arising from enlargement of pay rolls and increase in the volume of retail trade," the Comptroller said, which, he added, "indicates a continued return of money from hoards as banking facilities were reestablished."

About Bank Loans

"As for the charge that the banks will not extend credit, the first and obvious reply is that the banks themselves are made up of the very bone and sinew of the industrial, commercial and agricultural interests of the country. Bank directors, and, to a large extent, bank officers, are drawn from the business and farming population. If they do not feel at any given moment that it is wise to make a particular loan, it is more than probable that there are sound reasons for not making it," says an editorial in the Saturday Evening Post.

Mrs. Ruth Kermon, of Covington is sick at her mother's, Mrs. Willie Carter's.

Holmes Marks, of Lynchburg had an automobile accident, suffering several cuts and bruises.

DEFINES BANKERS' PART IN RECOVERY

Head of American Bankers Association Assures the President of Confidence and Desire to Cooperate Among Bankers

WASHINGTON, D. C. — President Roosevelt in his address before the NRA conference here on March 5 announced that he had received the following telegram from Francis M. Law, President of the American Bankers Association:

"On this your first anniversary please allow me in behalf of the country's banks to express our full confidence and our sincere desire to cooperate in your courageous efforts to bring about recovery. The banking structure of the country is sound and liquid and banks have never been in stronger position to function effectively. Conditions have improved to the point where it is no longer necessary for banks to be super-liquid. There is a definite call now for banks, not to extend loose credits or to make improper loans, but for a most sympathetic attitude toward legitimate credit needs and for a revolution of responsibility for their proper and vital part in the program of recovery."

The Soundness of Banking

In an address before a recent trust conference of the associations Trust Division in New York, Mr. Law said:

"A depression cannot long survive a sound banking structure if the banking structure is responsive to legitimate needs and functions in a way that is virile and alive. The most cheering fact of the present situation is the knowledge that banks are in strong position

Little girls have to have tea parties. They like to prepare cookies themselves. This is possible by using self-rising flour which takes all the guess work out of baking. This little hostess is serving to her guests grape punch and brownies made by herself with ready-prepared flour or self-rising flour.

is required, as these ingredients have already been added in just the right proportions by the manufacturer before you buy the flour. Such flour is easy for children to use. There is no measuring and mixing of baking powder or salt and success is easily assured. The flour needs only one sifting.

Brownies.

½ cup butter
2 squares or ozs. cooking chocolate
1¼ cups sugar
2 eggs
½ cup sour milk
½ cup self-rising flour
1 tsp. vanilla
¾ cup nut meats

First add the butter to the chocolate and melt over hot water. Add the sugar and eggs, unbeaten. Beat until well blended. Then add the remaining ingredients in the order given and when well mixed pour into a greased and floured cake pan to the depth of one-half inch. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) until quite firm but not brown. Cut into squares while still warm.

These may be served with a beverage such as lemonade or grape punch, or in the place of cake with ice cream to make a delightful collation to delight.

Native of County Is Honored

Dr. Franklin Named President of Seminary

A new honor has come to one of the most distinguished sons of Appomattox county. The Rev. James H. Franklin, a native of Pamplin, has accepted the presidency of the Crozier Baptist Theological Seminary, in Chester, Pa.

For sometime he had been secretary of American Baptist Foreign Mission Society, foreign department. He holds the D. D. degree from U. of Denver and Brown and the L. L. D. from U of Richmond

He has spent much time in the Orient, on his last trip making the long trip the Yangtze river to the province of Szecuan, 1800 miles from Shanghai to visit mission stations of West China.

No living native of this county has achieved greater honors than Dr. Franklin. People here are proud to have known him. His sister, Miss Kate Franklin teaches music here.

To Local Musicians

I have been asked to reach all string musicians of Appomattox county to prepare to enter state contest this fall. All musicians meet me at Vera school Saturday night March 24.

Story of One The Oldest Homes In This County

Old Gills Place Has History

The oldest house in the town of Appomattox is the home of Mrs. Annie Irby. This house was built by the Gregory brothers, many of whose descendents are living here now.

Another old house in the county of Appomattox is the residence of W. J. Gills.

At least a hundred years ago this building was used as a tavern at which the stage coach made its regular stop on the route from Richmond to Lynchburg. For many years, Collecting taxes forty years W. H. Gills, an uncle of the present owner lived in the house and it was here that he celebrated his goldenwedding anniversary.

His wife recalled having stopped overnight at what was to be her future home when she was taking a stage coach trip at the age of sixteen. Mr. Gills was sheriff and treasurer of the county for twenty years, Collecting taxes forty years ago was quite a different matter from what it is today. Twice as many deputies were needed. Travel was slow and laborious, either by horseback or in a buggy over roads of red clay.

Once during his term of office as deputy for his uncle, Captain Wilton Irby he had to officiate at the hanging of a condemned man Mr. Gills used to tell of this experience saying he never recovered from the ordeal.

The grandfather of Mr. Gills, also named William, was a Revolutionary soldier at the age of seventeen and was with Washington at the seige of Yorktown and witnessed the surrender of Cornwallis.

Farmers Advised To Demand That Their Congressmen Vote In Favor Of A Graduated Tax On Cigarettes

Mr. Van Cleve, *Commissioner of Agriculture in Tennessee, is thoroughly familiar with the problems of the tobacco farmer in his state. He knows how top prices for this cash crop, in years past, have made the farmer prosperous, and how that prosperity has been shared with merchants, manufacturers and workers, to the advantage of all. Mr. Van Cleve was a witness to the tobacco farmer's despair when, in 1931, tobacco farmer's despair when, in 1931, tobacco farmer's despair when, in 1931,
